

A Tree Talk by Chad Poist in 1991

Enthusiasm is defined as a keen, animated interest in and preoccupation with something; put simply it is cheerfully throwing oneself into a task. It is one of the greatest traits in the world, enhancing everything a person does. It can be nurtured and once you have it on your side, it is highly contagious. Enthusiasm comes from the Greek and means, “possessed by a god.” When we feel really good — possessed by some greater force — don’t stifle it, let it flow through you. It will make you feel great and it has a great effect on the community around you. So go crazy Camp Pasquaney!
