A Tree Talk by Tom Sutro in 1989

Practice taking the initiative... If you see paper on the ground... pick it up and maybe others around you will follow. If someone is being excluded, show initiative and include them, and you will feel better about yourself. Show initiative and try activities you have never tried before. No matter what you are doing this summer, take initiative, be aware of what is around you and do not miss this opportunity to learn a habit that will benefit you for a lifetime.
